Clinical experience has proven Redcord Stimula to be an even more efficient and important part of Neurac treatment than first assumed. We see treatment results we have never been close to achieving earlier. In many cases we achieve a faster result than one should think possible. In particular in cases with immediate effect on function and in pain relief treatment.

Redcord® Stimula

Redcord Stimula is a patented solution that produces vibrations where one can adjust the applied energy level, vibration pattern and time. Redcord Stimula is the result of many years of development, systematical clinical testing and re-testing. The apparatus makes it possible to apply controlled vibration locally in closed kinetic chain.
